The autosave interval in Email Designer is set at 60 seconds after the last change to the email. If you try to navigate away from the email design page with unsaved changes, you'll get prompted to save or exit without saving.

As a best practice, we recommend not having the same email design open in multiple tabs/browsers, as you risk having an older version of your design save over a newer version.